Risk Disclosure

All investments involve risks, including the loss of principal. The past performance of a security or financial product does not guarantee future results or returns. Keep in mind that while diversification may help spread risk it does not assure a profit, or protect against loss. Customers should consider their investment objectives and risks carefully before investing in securities. The price of a given security may increase or decrease based on market conditions and customers may lose money, including their original investment. The product features described are meant for informational purposes only and are not intended to serve as a recommendation to a customer to buy, hold or sell any security or any other asset, or engage in any investment strategy involving securities.

Neither receipt of stock through this program nor identification of a particular security in communications related to this program constitutes a solicitation of the security or a recommendation to buy, sell, or hold the security. This is not investment advice or a recommendation of any security, transaction, account type, investment strategy involving securities, or order.

Neither RHF nor any of its affiliates are banks.

Cash Management

Where available, Cash Management is an added feature available in certain Robinhood Financial brokerage accounts.

Charts

Charts, including charts relating to your historic portfolio valuations or performance, or relating to past prices of specific securities, are provided for informational purposes only and should not be relied upon as an accurate or complete presentation of your portfolio value, gains or losses, or the value or financial position of any security. Charts are based on various data sources, which may include market data and other information provided by third party information providers. Robinhood does not make any representation or guarantee relating the accuracy, timeliness, or completeness of charts or any information or data on which they are based. Without limitation, charts may not accurately take into account the impact of events relating to a specific security, for example corporate actions such as stock splits, dividends, mergers and acquisitions, or events relating to your account or portfolio such as charges, deposits, or withdrawals, and may in certain circumstances overstate or understate gains or losses. In the case of any securities transferred into your Robinhood account from a third party broker, any performance including charts will be calculated based on their market value as of the date Robinhood receives the securities from the other broker and may be different from the historical performance. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. With respect to your portfolio, please refer to your account statements for the relevant period that you receive on a regular basis from Robinhood.

The list is limited to securities with a market cap of greater than $300 million, and is updated throughout the trading day. Exchange Traded Products

Investors should consider the investment objectives, risks, and charges and expenses of any Exchange Traded Product (ETP), including any Exchange-Traded Fund (ETF) and any Exchange-Traded Notes (ETNs), carefully before investing. The prospectus and, if available, the summary prospectus contain this and other information about the ETP and should be read carefully before investing. Customers should visit the relevant ETP's details page to access a link to the prospectus.

ETPs that are designed to provide investment results that generally correspond to the performance of their respective underlying indices may not be able to exactly replicate the performance of the indices because of expenses and other factors. ETP shares are bought and sold at market price, which may be higher or lower than their NAV. ETPs are required to distribute portfolio gains to shareholders at year end. These gains may be generated by portfolio rebalancing or the need to meet diversification requirements. ETNs are subject to the credit risk of the underlying issuer. If the issuer defaults on the note, investors may lose some or all of their investment. ETP trading will also generate tax consequences. Additional regulatory guidance on Exchange Traded Products can be found at the SEC website and at the FINRA website (here and here).

Leveraged and inverse ETPs may involve greater risk and not be suitable for all investors, particularly for buy-and-hold investors. Volatility linked ETPs pose special risks tied to market volatility that can significantly impact the pricing of the product and your ability to trade them during times of extreme market volatility. These types of ETPs generally reset daily and are not designed to, and will not necessarily, track the underlying index or benchmark over a longer period of time. Investing in such ETPs may increase exposure to volatility through the use of leverage, short sales of securities, derivatives and other complex investment strategies.

Extended Hours Trading

Extended hours trading means trading outside of regular market hours (9:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Eastern Time on a trading day of a national securities exchange). To learn more about the risks associated with extended hours trading, please review our Extended Hours Trading Disclosure.

Before using margin, customers must determine whether this type of trading strategy is right for them given their specific investment objectives, experience, risk tolerance, and financial situation.

Overall Portfolio Return

This metric shows your total portfolio return for the current day as a default. If the market has closed, we will also display the after-hours change in your portfolio value if you do not hold cryptocurrencies. The overall portfolio return metric consolidates all of your holdings in your Robinhood holdings and includes any cryptocurrencies which you may hold through Robinhood Crypto, LLC which is an affiliate of Robinhood

Financial. Robinhood Financial does not hold any cryptocurrency assets on behalf of its customers and such assets are not included on Robinhood Financial's books and records or covered by SIPC. This consolidated report is provided for informational purposes only and as a courtesy to you. The daily overall portfolio return metric is calculated differently depending on whether you hold only securities (such as stocks or ETFs) in your account, or whether you also hold cryptocurrencies in your account. The daily return is calculated using the market close (4 p.m. ET) prices from the previous trading day for securities holdings, and the price as at the most recent midnight (per your current time zone) for cryptocurrency holdings (as cryptocurrencies can be bought and sold 24 hours a day).
