If the Customer should fail to make such delivery in the time required, Robinhood is authorized to borrow such securities as necessary to make delivery for the Customer’s sale, and the Customer agrees to be responsible for any loss Robinhood may thereby sustain, or which Robinhood may sustain as a result of its inability to borrow such securities. The fee is calculated as the end of day short market value, multiplied by the quoted interest rate, divided by 360. This Stock Borrow Fee is subject to change daily and can be charged as long as the Customer holds the open short position. The daily fees will be aggregated on a monthly basis and will appear on the Customer’s account statement.
