ROBINHOOD GOLD CARD REWARDS PROGRAM RULES

Your Robinhood Gold Credit Card Account ("Account") will earn Rewards Points based on your purchases, as well as other limited-time and promotional offers, as explained below (the "Rewards Program"). The Rewards Program is administered by Robinhood Credit, Inc. ("Robinhood").

Robinhood may make changes to the Rewards Program (including termination of the Rewards Program) or change the terms of this agreement at any time. For example, Robinhood may:

- Add new terms or delete terms
- Change how you earn points, or how many points you can earn for eligible purchases
- Change how you redeem points
- Change what you can get with your points
- Impose caps and/or fees on earning and/or using points

Robinhood may not always provide notice when it changes what you can get with your points or how your points can be redeemed. You understand and agree that Robinhood can make these changes at any time. You can see what you currently can get with your points when you visit the "Rewards" tab in the Robinhood Credit Card mobile app. Future availability of certain aspects of the Rewards Program, including specific Rewards Merchants and redemption items, is not guaranteed.

Robinhood will provide at least 45 days notice if we cancel the Rewards Program. If we terminate the program, you will have 90 days from the date of the notice to redeem your Points. Points which are not redeemed within that 90 day period will be forfeited.

Robinhood isn't responsible for products and services offered by other companies, including Rewards Merchants.

How Do You Earn Points?

The cash back you earn on your purchases is first calculated in rewards points ("Points"). Once Points post to your account, you can redeem them in various ways, including as cash back. See "How Do You Redeem Points" section below for additional details.

Certain purchases ("Eligible Purchases") on your Robinhood Account will earn Points. You will earn three (3) Points for each dollar of Eligible Purchases posted to your Robinhood Account. Any transaction made in foreign currency is converted to US Dollars and awarded points so long as it is otherwise eligible.

Eligible Purchases made through the Robinhood Travel Portal will earn five (5) Points for each dollar posted to your Robinhood Account. Only purchases made in dollars are eligible for Points. If you make a purchase in the Travel Portal using your existing Points, you will not earn additional Points on that purchase.

You can check your rewards Points balance at any time using the Robinhood Credit Card mobile application (the "Robinhood Credit Card App").

The following transactions are not considered "Eligible Purchases" and will not earn rewards Points: balance transfers, cash advances, checks that access your Robinhood Account, items returned for credit, disputed or unauthorized purchases, fraudulent transactions, traveler's checks, foreign currency purchases, money orders, wire transfers (and similar cash-like transactions), lottery tickets and gaming chips (and similar betting transactions), loads or reloads of balances on gift cards or prepaid cards or cash equivalents, business-type transactions (including reselling), person-to-person payments, Robinhood Account fees and charges (such as finance charges), and fees for services or programs you elect to receive through us. Robinhood, in its sole discretion, determines whether a transaction constitutes an "Eligible Purchase", and has the right to deny points or remove points if they were already granted on a transaction that is ultimately deemed ineligible.

All spending, transactions, redemptions and other activity by you or your Authorized Users is consolidated under your Account. If you have added an Authorized User to your Account, either you or you Authorized User may accrue Points through spending, redeem Points and take other actions under the Rewards Program on your Account.

Can You Lose (or Stop Accruing) Points?

Robinhood may stop points from accruing, and/or prevent you from redeeming points, if your account becomes delinquent, you violate your Robinhood Gold Cardholder Agreement or other applicable terms, or if your account is subject to a hold for any other reason, including but not limited to fraud or the need for identity verification.

If you fail to make a Minimum Payment Due by the first day of your next Billing Period, Robinhood reserves the right to rescind Points for purchases posted to your Robinhood Account during the billing cycle in which you failed to pay the Minimum Payment Due and to stop points accrual for future purchases until you become current. To keep the points you've earned and keep accruing points on future purchases, you must pay at least the Minimum Payment Due shown on your billing statement by the first day of your next Billing Period.

In addition, Robinhood reserves the right to temporarily suspend your ability to earn or use Points, take away any Points in your account, cancel your Points account or cancel your Robinhood Card altogether if Robinhood determines in its sole judgment that you engaged in fraud, abuse, misuse or gaming in connection with earning or using points or that you may attempt to do so, including, but not limited to:

- by buying or selling points,
- by selling, or participating in the sale or exchange of, gift cards, travel or other items of value obtained through use of points,
- by repeatedly opening or otherwise maintaining credit card accounts for the purpose of generating rewards,
- by manufacturing spend for the purpose of generating rewards, or
- by using the card for business-type transactions (including reselling) rather than personal transactions.

Lost points will not be reinstated unless Robinhood determines, in its sole discretion, that it has made an error.

If your Points reflect a negative balance, any points you subsequently get will be applied first to reduce the negative balance. You will not be able to use Points until your balance becomes positive.

- You may not use Points to create a credit balance.

What Happens If Your Account Is Closed?

If we or you close your Robinhood Account, you will have 90 days to redeem your accumulated points post-closure, unless your account is closed due to fraud or misuse, including failure to comply with the cardholder agreement or account terms. If your account is closed under those circumstances, you will no longer be able to earn or redeem your Points and you will forfeit any accumulated Points or potential statement credits.
